Season 4 Episode One - Discussion Guide

A look at the crushing, corrupting power of power—and its limits, too.

Watch

Before you watch this episode . . .

If you're going to watch the episode together as a group, you might want to take a moment to remind everyone where Season 3 left off. Big thing to remember: John the Baptizer is in prison. You can even tease the theme of the discussion—the crushing, corrupting power of power and its limits, too — asking them to keep this in mind.

Introduction

After watching each episode of Season Four of "The Chosen," it's important to delve deeper into the themes, characters, and events that unfold in this captivating series. By engaging in thoughtful discussion of the following questions, we can enrich our understanding and appreciation of the narratives and messages portrayed. These questions will stimulate conversation, encouraging us to reflect on the emotional, spiritual, and historical layers woven into each episode. Let's explore these questions together to deepen our connection with the story and its profound impact. Be listening for what God may be saying to you as you listen to, and share, with one another.

Discuss

1. You knew the death of John the Baptist was coming — especially if you've been able to spend time in the Scriptures. What was it that ultimately cost him his life?

*If you're looking for a way to sum it all up for the group, maybe go with this:
John challenged the powers of the world — and it cost him his life.
Read Luke 3:1-20 to see his confrontational preaching and the story of his death.*

2. The episode ends with the prophetic blessing that John's father, Zechariah, spoke over him as an infant. Let's listen to it together. Break to read Luke 1:68-79. That's filled with a lot of victory talk, which is jarring in the wake of John's death. Is darkness truly being swallowed up by light? Is there reason to have hope, even when we don't see victory yet?

Discuss

3. Let's place the story of The Chosen alongside our own. Where have you seen the powers of the world crushingly at work in your world—and how do you not lose hope, that you might show John-like resolve?
4. Though power corrupts and crushes, we often want to possess it ourselves. (See Judas at the start of the episode, for example.) Why is it so tempting for us to grasp for power as followers of Jesus? And are there ways for us to push against the pull?
5. Think about your own funeral or memorial service. Share what is something that you want said, sung or experienced by those who attend.
6. Read 2 Corinthians 4:7-12. Share how you might relate these verses to your life right now.
7. How might a believer's death be part of God's plan for their lives?
8. Read Isaiah 55:8-9. Is there something going on in your life for which you need God's thoughts and ways to guide your understanding?
9. Has life been more joyful or sorrowful for you? Share a time when your life experience was a combination of both.
10. Read Luke 9:23. What does it mean for you to take up your cross daily and follow Jesus?

Pray

Here are 2 questions to guide your groups closing prayer:

1. If you were to offer a word of thanks to God for something that comforted you in this episode, what would it be?
2. If you were to ask God's help in living life in a new way in light of this episode, how would you sum up this new way of life?
